

The 3rd Michael J. Marberger annual meeting is an intensive, interactive, half-day educational program that brings together renowned international experts to discuss Frontiers in Urology 2017. We have many national and international guest speakers including Yair Lotan, Ganesh Palapattu, Arkadiusz Miernik, and Domenico Veneziano.

The meeting will focus on key clinical topics in the management of urologic diseases: lithiasis, male sexual health, voiding dysfunction, and urologic cancers.

On December 15, state-of-the-art lectures will provide clinicians and scientists with an update of the breakthroughs of 2017 to maintain their high level of care, and further optimize their outcomes.

At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be better prepared to:

- Describe the newest methods to diagnose and information that can provide the rationale for clinical decision-making
- Summarize recommendations that shape current strategies to care for patients
- Develop multidisciplinary strategies to optimize outcomes for patients
- Assess recent practice-changing clinical trial findings concerning novel tools, compounds or strategies
- Apply emerging clinical concepts to support the management in consideration of evolving treatment paradigms in the field.
